HAPPY HOYT.

His Inauguration at Harrisburg To-day.

Special to the Star.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—The inauguration of Governor Henry M. Hoyt took place this afternoon.

There was a very large attendance of military clubs and citizens from all parts of the State, and the demonstration was one of the grandest ever witnessed at the Capital.

The Governor's inaugural address was devoted chiefly to considering the condition of the country and reviewing the financial question. He thanked his opponents for courteous treatment at their hands, and promised to treat all as fairly as if their votes had been cast for him.

The election of U. S. Senator occurs this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The election of Don Cameron is now conceded.

PREPARING FOR RESISTANCE.

FRANCE.
THE GOVERNMENT VICTORY.
VERSAILLES, Jan. 21.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday M. Dufaure moderately defended his position. During the debate the Government compromised with the Republican Left and Left Center. Accordingly Jules Ferry proposed the order of the day, hinting at additional reforms, which the Government accepted. It was supported by M. Floquet, who proposed the order of the day pure and simple. The latter proposal was rejected by a vote of 222 against 168. Jules Ferry's motion was then adopted by a vote of 223 against 121, a Government majority of 102. M. Gambetta was present, but delivered a silent vote, which is unknown, but it is believed that he voted with the Government.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A Paris dispatch says the Government victory in the Chambers of Deputies has caused great excitement. The Paris Right abstained from voting.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Special to the Star.
THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONTEST.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Corbin, of South Carolina, is sanguine of being seated in Butler's place at this session. The delay in reporting the case to the Senate now is owing to the absence of Democratic members of the Committee. The plan to seat Corbin is that, with Davis, of Illinois, declining to vote, Butler not being allowed to vote, and Patterson and Conover voting with the Democrats, Vice President Wheeler will be allowed, by reason of a tie, to decide the case. The Democrats of the Senate are fully determined to oppose this plan, if it requires filibustering till the 4th of March.

MORE CURRENCY TINKERING.
The bill introduced by Senator Cockrell, to regulate the currency, is the subject of much discussion about Congress, and as a test of its importance, is being sent broadcast by the special correspondents, who have also interviewed other Senators as to its merits. The common remark among Democrats is that it is a bill which, while possibly faulty in some details, is on the whole one on which the Democrats can unite; that it is calculated to unite all opposition to the Republican party on the question, except the fiat money people and the extreme gold men.

National Associated Press to the Star.
The Tobacco Tax.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Senate Finance Committee has taken no vote on the reduction of the tobacco tax, and the statement as to the action on this question is purely conjectural and without substantial foundation.

The Free Ship Bill.
The Committee on Commerce had another meeting this morning on Harrison's bill for free ships. Ex-Congressman Lynch, of Maine, made a speech in opposition to the bill. No action was taken by the Committee.

Forming a Syndicate.
Certain gentlemen who have been connected with the Government on former occasions in placing the 5 per cent, and 4 1/2 per cent, are here now preparing the terms of a syndicate to place the 4 per cent, loan in Europe.

It is estimated that a large amount of consols of 1867 are held in Europe, which, when called, must be paid for in gold, unless exchanged for four per cent, therefore the object of the Secretary in forming this Syndicate is to facilitate this exchange. The terms of the contract are very favorable to the Government.

An Entertaining Trial.
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Sun says it is now discovered that in the recent robbery of the Washington Post-office, when one of the clerks went to the Treasury with an order for $10,800 and forgot to return with the greenbacks, the toll levied by the intermediaries who returned the original package minus their brokerage, was much larger than at first admitted. The sum said to have been paid to Postmaster Edmunds and for which he gave a receipt to cover the entire amount of the original check was $7,500. In other words, the operation realized for the enterprising managers $3,300.

A CHEERFUL CONFERENCE.

Politics and Catholics Vigorously Discussed.

National Associated Press to the Star.
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—At the Baptist Ministers' Conference politics was discussed, and yesterday was very exciting. The Roman Catholics were attacked and defended. One of the members said the Roman Catholic Church was the "Beast" of Revelation.

Dr. Potter was sorry to hear the brethren applaud whenever it was said in Conference that the Roman Catholic Church was the "Beast." If so, then that Church ought to be prayed for, and not triumphed over. From the spirit displayed by some of the brethren he inferred that it would be a bad day for the Baptist Church if it ever gained any great power.

Dr. Fulton said that New York was the greatest Roman Catholic city in the world; that money and power was on its side, but that here in the Baptist Conference the Roman Catholic religion could be said to be as good as any other; that no Protestant missions are needed in Europe, because that Church does the proper work, and that, as between Catholics and Protestants, bygone should be bygone.

The Herald this morning says: The conference is becoming decidedly entertaining. From the "Scarlet Woman" and the "Beast" the reverend gentlemen got to politics, when the liveliest kind of a row followed. If this sort of thing continues they ought to hire the largest hall in town.

These arrests are looked upon as the most important that have been made by the Secret Service office in many years, for they have not only succeeded in arresting the proprietor, but only last week they succeeded in convicting and sending to long terms of imprisonment, Burckhardt, Peckham and Connors, the heaviest dealers in counterfeit money made by them.

Trouble in the Church.
Last Sunday evening there was some excitement, after the services, in the Seventh-street Congregational Church. It all arose from the fact that a letter of resignation had been handed in by Mr. Joshua Abbott, followed by an appeal for a letter of fellowship to the Storrs Congregation.

Mr. Abbott lives at No. 64 Mound street, and has an extensive business at No. 172 Elm street. When the pastor, before closing service, formally requested that the congregation should remain seated after the doxology, as a matter of moment was to be considered, the curiosity of the members was raised to the highest point.

The letter of resignation was read, and then Mr. W. J. Breed, of Crane, Breed & Co., rose to oppose the granting of the same. He was opposed not only to the granting of the letter of recommendation, but was in favor of Mr. Abbott's expulsion from the Seventh Church. He intimated immoral conduct on the part of the latter, and broadly and openly charged him with the neglect and abuse of a worthy wife.

But the climax had not been reached yet, for as Mr. Breed sat down Mrs. Abbott, who was present, rose and excitedly declared that Mr. Breed's charges were unfounded. She knew, she said, that Mr. Abbott was not mortal, and liable to err as mortals err—but he had yet to lay a finger upon her.

Other members also spoke on the subject, when it was announced that the Committee had acquitted Mr. Abbott of the charges.

Finally, amid great excitement, the letter of fellowship was granted and the members dispersed.
